

Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 04 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning chilly overnight with fog patches.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry night across the country with any cloud in the east clearing to leave mostly clear skies overnight. Turning chilly with light winds, allowing fog patches to form especially over southern areas. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
A mostly fine day with sunny spells. Gradually turning cloudier from the west with a band of showers, heavy at times arriving by the evening. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunny spells and a few showers. Showers more frequent and widespread on Monday. Feeling warm, especially in the strong sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.